

Govt. Pant Agricultural and Technology University Pantnagar, Distt- Udham Singh Nagar (Uttarakhand)

Holi festival celebrated with great fervor at Vice-Chancellor's residence

Holi festival was celebrated with great fervor by Vice-Chancellor Dr. Manmohan Singh Chauhan along with officers, staff, students and campus residents at Vice Chancellor's residence, Tarai Bhawan in the University. On this occasion, everyone drenched each other with colors, enjoyed this festival and exchanged brotherhood and affection among themselves and a colorful program was presented by the members of Uttaranchal Sangam Samiti with the melodious tunes of folk dance and music of Uttarakhand. Foreign guests also participated in celebrating this festival. On this occasion, the Vice-Chancellor wished everyone a very Happy Holi and said that Holi is not only a festival of colours but it is also a symbol of unity, brotherhood and love. He appealed to everyone to celebrate this festival with full happiness and safety and to stay away from any kind of hatred and animosity.

During this time, other officers, employees and students of the university also joined and celebrated this festival with colours. The Vice-Chancellor saw happiness on everyone's faces on this occasion. At the end of the function, everyone shared the happiness of the festival with each other and wished for prosperity and unity. On this joyous occasion of Holi, everyone made the festival even more memorable by meeting each other. A group of 20 students from the university who went to France also celebrated this festival of Holi with great joy there.

Campus residents celebrating Holi festival at the Vice Chancellor's residence.

Students of the University celebrating Holi festival in France.

Director Communication